ITEM NUMBERS IN THE MONTHLY CATALOG: QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The Classification and Cataloging Branch has recently received a number of questions regarding the use of depository item numbers in cataloging entries in the Monthly Catalog. As the issues are of general interest, the questions and answers are reproduced below for the benefit of depository library staff and users.

Q: Should we assume, when an item number appears in a Monthly Catalog entry, that the publication was distributed to depository libraries?

A: Since cataloging occurs after a publication is put on a shipping list and distributed to depository libraries, it is correct to assume that the presence of an item number in the Monthly Catalog indicates distribution took place. There have been, and continue to be, however, cases in which cataloging takes place prior to microfiche conversion and/or distribution. One example is with Congressionals, which are cataloged before conversion to microfiche and distribution. Then if there are problems in Micrographics, or the document is a "raincheck," etc., we have a cataloging record with an assumed item number, or a publication which all selecting libraries may not have received.

Q: If a publication actually was not distributed under an item, should the entry show the item number just because publications in that same SuDoc classification have been distributed under that item?

A: With rare exceptions (e.g., dual format Congressionals), an item number is not automatically put into a Monthly Catalog record based on the class stem of the publication. The presence or absence of the item number is indicative of the distribution of the particular piece being cataloged.

Q: If GPO has a copy of a publication for cataloging and classification purposes and lists it in the Monthly Catalog, why don't we get a copy under the listed item when we have signed up for it previously in adequate time?

A: Sometimes LPS receives a single copy of a publication but there is no stock available for depository distribution. In such cases it still will appear in the Monthly Catalog, albeit without an item number. The guiding legislation for what is cataloged is even more inclusive than that which determines what is sent to libraries.

Q: What happens to the item number in the Monthly Catalog record when a correction to the classification number causes a publication's class stem to change? Does the item number also change?

A: The item number in the cataloging record indicates the item under which the publication was actually distributed to libraries. Therefore, the item number does not change, even when the publication's class stem changes.

ENTRY NUMBER CORRECTION FOR FEBRUARY 1988 MC

The inclusive entry numbers were misprinted on the cover and title page of the February 1988 Monthly Catalog. Please correct the numbers to read: Entries 88-3549 to 88-4800.

READERS EXCHANGE

METRODOCS LIBRARY COOPERATIVE

Metrodocs is an informal, voluntary library cooperative that was formed in 1986 in the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma area by these seven federal depository libraries:

Central State University Library
 Metropolitan Library System
 Southern Nazarene University Learning Resources Center
 Oklahoma City University Dulaney-Browne Library
 Oklahoma Department of Libraries
 University of Oklahoma Bizzell Library
 University of Oklahoma Law Library

None of these libraries are more than a forty-minute drive away, and the first five libraries listed are within ten to thirty minutes from each other. This, along with the shared problems, responsibilities, and marketing possibilities that all depository libraries share, made the formation of Metrodocs a logical action. When approached by the regional depository librarian at the Oklahoma Department of Libraries, U.S. Documents Division, all seven depository librarians readily agreed that the formation of such an association was not only useful, but necessary, and probably long overdue. The presence of a regional depository within a metropolitan environment that contains several selective depository libraries would seem to mandate the formation of such organizations as a matter of regional depository responsibility.

Metrodocs is an informal library cooperative. We have no bylaws or other formal organizational mechanisms. The regional depository librarian serves as chairperson. We form and dissolve ad hoc committees as necessary. In 1987 we adopted the following principles as our official statement of purpose:

1. Metrodocs is concerned with encouraging cooperation among depository libraries.
  - A. To this end it holds meetings from time to time to share information about the activities of each depository and to work on projects and problems.
  - B. Metrodocs has as its goal the promotion of access to government publications.
2. Metrodocs has as its goal the promotion of access to government publications.
  - A. To this end it creates and disseminates brochures, guides, and monographs on government publications.
  - B. Metrodocs facilitates letter writing and other "political" activities aimed at supporting the Federal Depository Library Program.
  - C. Metrodocs supports efforts to publicize the availability of information in government publications depository collections.

Metrodocs has published these documents publications and various members are currently working on others:

A. Brochures.

1. "U.S. Government Information at the Metrodocs Libraries"
Metrodocs Brochure 1. 1986, 1987, 1p.
2. "Depository Libraries for U.S. Government Publications in the Oklahoma City Metropolitan Area and How They Can Help Congressional Offices and Their Constituents"
Metrodocs Brochure 2. 1987, 2p.

B. Guides

1. "International Information: The Translations of the Foreign Broadcast Information Service and the Joint Publications Research Service"
Metrodocs Guide 1. 1986, 3p.
2. "International Information: Publications from U.S.
Government Agencies"
Metrodocs Guide 2. 1987, 4p.

C. Monographs

- A Guide to Locating Technical Reports in U.S. Government
Publications Collections. By Mary Hardick.
Metrodocs Monograph 1. 1987, 25p.

The master copy of each Metrodocs publication is maintained on a computer at the Oklahoma Department of Libraries, U.S. Documents Division. Metrodocs members, and other interested libraries, maintain their own paper master copy from which they photocopy as many copies as they need. Metrodocs publications are not copyrighted.

If you are interested in acquiring any of these publications, or have any questions about Metrodocs, contact Steve Beleu, Oklahoma Department of Libraries, U.S. Documents Division, 200 N.E. 18th St., Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73105-3298; phone 405-521-2502.
